In a Spring still not Written Of by Robert Wallace

This morning With a class of girls outdoors, I saw how frail poems are in a world burning up with flowers, in which, overhead, the great elms
--green, and tall— stood carrying leaves in their arms.

The girls listened equally to my drone, reading, and to the bees' ricocheting among them for the blossom on the bone, or gazed off at a distant mower's astronomies of green and clover, flashing, threshing in the new, untarnished sunlight.

And all the while, dwindling -tinier, the voices – Yeats, Marvell, Donne-
-sank drowning -in a spring still not written of, As only the sky -clear above the brick bell-tower --blue, and white— was shifting toward the hour.

Calm, indifferent, cross-legged Or on elbows half-lying in the grass—how should the great dead tell them of dying? They will come to time for poems at last, when they have found they are no more the beautiful and young all poems are for.

Alex, from the time you were a little boy to today, we have loved and admired you; you are a caring person and a deep thinker. You possess a mischievous sense of humor and an original mind. You are a brilliant musician, a rabid sports fan (Go CHIEFS!!!), a world-class fisherman and a great snowboarder. Of course, you are not perfect (sorry about that!). But, you recognize your faults and work on them. You are a loyal son, brother and friend and peacemaker. And you are humble too! But most of all, by the courage and grace with which you have faced life's challenges, you have taught and inspired us all. Congratulations on your graduation. May you continue to live life to the fullest and see all your dreams and wishes come true. Your loving family: All the Riches, Kelemens, Beattys, Jacobsons and Elmans.

Brian,

As you travel far and wide,
We will always be thinking of you!

Congratulations
and Love,

Mom and Dad,
Jeff and David

Dear Jake, There aren't enough words to describe the fun we had watching you participate in all of your activities from grade school thru college. Also watching you grow and mature. Always be honest with people and yourself and you will benefit in the long run.

Love, Dad

Your sparkling eyes, love for teasing and laughter, your impulsive decisions and ability to learn from mistakes, your competitive nature and drive to get to really get to know people beyond "Hello," your compassion for life and others and your special gift for comforting and training animals, all lead to the warm, loving, wonderful young man you've become. I am proud of you Jake! Love you, Mom

Congratulations Whitney

What a great journey it has been,
and an even better journey awaits you.

Our wish to you is many years of happiness, adventure, and good health.

Climb mountains, look up, and do something nice for yourself each day.

We have always been so proud of you.

Love Always,
Mom, Dad, and Bobby.

Chelsea-
Why does it feel like that first day of kindergarten all over again?

The world awaits.
It's ok to be a little nervous.

Just remember to listen to your heart and don't be afraid to take the road less traveled by.

We will always love you and be there for you.
Mom, Dad, Caity and Gilly.

Maya, you're the best.

To accomplish great things, we must not only act, but also dream:
Not only plan but also believe.

Are You Ready For This?

Dear Cullen,
You're ready to hit the road but know that we're always here to lend a hand!
Love,
Mom, Dad, Cary, Helen and George

To our daughter, Caitlin O'Brady.
You've come a long way, baby!
We love you and congratulations
Mom, Dad, Brian and Catherine.

Marc,
We couldn't be prouder!
Ever since you were little, you have sought to attain new 'heights.'

The Colorado College experience has unleashed numerous opportunities for you, including pursuit of music, snowboarding, hiking, climbing, repelling,...avalanche and first-responder training...not to mention a quest for knowledge and new ways of thinking.

May you always be in "flow" and strive for higher and higher summits!

We love you LOTS!

Congratulations to the "Fab Five" on your 2005 Colorado College Graduation.

"I was graduated from the finest school, which is that of the love between parent and child.
Though the world is constructed to serve glory, success,
and strength,
One loves one's parents and one's children despite their failings and weaknesses-sometimes even more on account of them.
In this school you learn the measure not of power, but of love; not of victory, but of grace; not of triumph, but of forgiveness.
You learn as well, and sometimes, as I did, you learn early, that love can overcome death, and that what is required of you in this is memory and devotion.
Memory and devotion.

To keep your love alive you must be willing to be obstinate, and irrational, and true, to fashion your entire life as a construct, a metaphor, a fiction, a device for the exercise of faith.

Without this, you will live like a beast and have nothing but an aching heart.

With it, your heart, though broken, will be full, and you will stay in the fight into the very last."

Julie, we are very proud of you.
Go for it! Follow your heart!
We gave you "the roots and the wings"
Love always,
Peter, Paul,
Dan, and Branka.

Lindsey,
 When you were born my world filled with awe and inspiration. Nothing, but career, causes, or former plans held sway in your presence.
 My bright, beautiful little girl...you changed my very presence.
 You were my "Diddy Daughter", my "Best Thing", from that stormy night in 1982 to this very day.
 Now, that you are a 2005 Colorado College grad, I'm again in awe. How did this happen so quickly?! No Mom is prouder of her little girl turned young woman.
 I will love you no matter where life takes you. Just be Lindsey Ann...that will be quite enough and quite wonderful.
 I love you absolutely,
 Mom.

High Flight
John Gillespie Magee, Jr.

Oh, I have slipped the surly bonds of earth
And danced the skies on laughter-silvered wings
Sunward, I've climbed and joined the tumbling mirth
Of sun-split clouds-and done a hundred things You have not dreamed of-wheeled and soared and swung high in the sunlit silence. Hovering there I've chased the shouting wind along and flung
My eager craft through the footless halls of air
Up, up the long delirious, burning blue
I've topped the wind-swept heights with easy grace,
Where never lark, or even eagle flew;
And, while with silent, lifting mind I've trod
The high untrespassed sanctity of space
Put out my hand, and touched the face of God.

We're proud of you, Medulla.
And now, with both feet on the ground, you will trod off into "the mouth of the dragon".

We love you,
Dad, Mom, and Family.
